

K-LOVE serves me as a resident of the Oklahoma area in many ways. Some of the many are that the family-friendly broadcasts, which we need more of, are safe for any member of my family to listen to, it provides solid Christian values, and encourages many who are in desperate need of encouragement. There have been 7000 to 8000 people who have accepted Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior since January of this year. Even if one does not believe in God and recognizes the separation of Church and State, one can easily see the benefits of faith. There have been numerous studies that prove that faith based activities and services help to reduce crime, sexually transmitted diseases, and bring people to see, feel, and show love for one another. I am uplifted every time I turn the dial to K-LOVE radio and so are thousands of others.

If K-LOVE was to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other broadcasting in my area a good amount of those encouraged and even brought to salvation through their service would be eliminated and I suppose one would have to assume the opposite of the good benefits I listed earlier would begin to take effect. There are many people who would not step foot in a church that will come across K-LOVE on their radio and before long surrender their life to Jesus. K-LOVE is in a shining light among a dark spectrum of other stations that play the type of music that leads others into thoughts of depression, suicide, mischief, and many other forms of negative thinking and actions. Music is a powerful thing; it can enhance a mood someone may already be experiencing either lifting their soul to see light or push them down further into darkness. To sum up my comment, Please choose the light in a darkened world. May God Bless you and guide you as you decide the future of radio.
